

COMMONWEALTH BOXING COUNCIL BULLETIN

BANTAMWEIGHT

Dennis Hobson, manager of Jamie McDonnell has confirmed to the CBC that he has relinquished the Bantamweight Championship in order to concentrate on his IBF World Title ambitions.

BANTAMWEIGHT AND SUPERFEATHERWEIGHT

The winners of the forthcoming vacant Title match at bantam, and the voluntary defence at Superfeather (see Forthcoming Championships) will be required to waive 6 months defence period grace and defend as required by the CBC against the winner of the Final Eliminator in Accra on 11th November, and Final Eliminator winner Logan McGuinness of Canada respectively.

FLYWEIGHT

The Commonwealth Flyweight Championship will not be at stake in the British Championship contest taking place in Liverpool on 13th October between Champion Kevin Satchell and Chris Edwards. If Edwards is successful the Title will be declared vacant. If Satchell is successful the CBC Board of Directors will consider an appropriate course of action relevant to the mandatory contender status of Abmerk Shindjuu of Namibia
